HAWAIIAN RACE MARRIES SELF OUT EXISTENCE

Death Rate Shows No Decrease But Birthrate is Dropping in Substantial Manner

(By Associated Press) HONOLULU, T. H., May 18.—(By Mail)—The Hawaiian race is not "dying out," but in reality is "marrying itself out of existence," according to a statement made here by Miss M. Hunter Lomon, registrar of vital statistics.

Although there has been no material increase in the death rate of pure blooded Hawaiians during the past four years, the birth rate for the calendar year, 1921, showed a material decrease as compared with those of the four preceding years and indicated that Hawaiian men and women are destroying their own race by marrying into other groups, she said.

"It will be seen readily that this practice will tend to increase the part-Hawaiian population and at the same time decrease the pure Hawaiian population insofar as the future is concerned," she added.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, there were 169 marriages between pure Hawaiian couples. In addition to these 56 Hawaiian men married women of other races and 112 Hawaiian women were married to men of other groups.

DEDICATION OF MEMORIAL FOR TWIN IS HELD

Tuolumne and Calaveras Counties Present Memorial Cabin Jackass Hill

(By Associated Press) SONORA, June 10.—The beginning of Mark Twain's career of making men's tasks easier to bear is indelibly associated with his days in the mining country of Tuolumne and Calaveras counties of California. Governor Stephens said in an address at the dedication of the Mark Twain memorial cabin at Jackass Hill, near here.

There was a great gathering of people on the summit of Old Jackass Hill. Long before the hour of opening the program visitors began to assemble from the river canyon and the town of Melones. The zig zag trail over which red shirted miners and pack animals of early days wended their way to the summit, now pockmarked and honeycombed by prospectors of years ago, has given way to a graded road over which automobiles now travel. These covered thousands of people from miles around. It was pack animals which gave the old hill the picturesque name. A barbecue preceded the dedication ceremonies.

FREIGHT RATES AND WAGES ARE NOW CONSIDERED

Associated Traffic Club of America Will Consider Shippers and Carriers

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, June 10.—Freight rates and railroad wages will be dealt with from the point of view of shippers and carriers by the newly organized Associated Traffic club of America, in an effort to influence public opinion and policies, according to an outline of its objects made by the officers here today. Those who have promoted the organization say that its work will be much the same as that contemplated in recent proposals of a national transportation institute supported by both shippers and carriers, "for the education of the public and the support of wise transportation policies." They announce that the organization hopes to impress upon the president and congress "the kind of men that should be appointed to the interstate commerce commission," and thought it will refrain from recommending individuals.

Some of the questions to be considered will probably relate to the value of the United States railroad labor board; proposals to amend the rate making section of the transportation act so that "there shall not be a mandate to the interstate commerce commission to make the level of rates such that the carriers will earn an adequate revenue; restoration of power of the state policy in respect to a merchant marine; the proposed St. Lawrence canal.

It is estimated that there are 25 or more "industrial" traffic clubs in which shippers but not carriers are represented. The association, which was organized at a meeting attended by 50 representatives of 25 of the 75 or 80 traffic clubs in which both carriers and shippers are represented, will seek to induce the industrial clubs to become eligible to membership in the association by admitting representatives of carriers.
